Dear Families,

Thank you for supporting your scholars in participating in Spirit Week last week. Our staff and students appeared to have so much fun! During this unusual time, we are working to ensure at-home learning is as similar to learning in school as possible.

A few reminders, please do not eat or drink around school issued technology. Our computers and iPads are expensive and we know spills are bound to happen. Liquids may destroy the device, but even sticky hands may make typing more difficult with the machine. Please try to remind our scholars of that.

We have heard from many of our teachers that headphones are an essential piece of equipment to make at-home learning successful. If you have already purchased headphones for your scholar please remind them to wear them. If you are looking for headphones, we suggest headphones with built-in microphones for students. Finally, if for any reason you are unable to purchase headphones, please reach out to Mrs. Loy (yloy@auroracollegiate) for support.

I have some bittersweet news to share, Mr. Wright our Dean of Students will be leaving Aurora. Mr. Wright has been an integral part of our growth and success over the last several years. He will be leading several virtual schools in Indiana. The entire Aurora Family is grateful for his service and wishes him the best of luck in his new endeavor (although we know he is going to do great). While we look to reallocate his responsibilities, we will ensure his absence doesn't impact student learning in any way. As always, please feel free to reach out with any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,
Grant Monda
